A MOUSE TRAP

Hello! My name is Stilton, Geronimo Stilton. What you're about to read is one of my favorite ADVENTURES. You see, I just love reading. In fact, this particular story began because of a book....

It was a beautiful Saturday afternoon in spring, and I was whistling HAPPILY as I strolled along the streets of New Mouse City. I was in a good mood because I'd planned a really nice day. First, I'd shop for some fresh cheese, then I'd head over to New Mouse City's library, where the library mouse was holding a book for me. It was something I'd wanted to read for a LONG time.

When I was done with my shopping, I scurried over to the library. After chatting with the library mouse, I checked out the book.

The security guard shouted, "The library is closing! All rodents are kindly asked to get their books and leave the premises!"

I scampered onto the elevator and pushed the DOWN button. The elevator began going down. But suddenly, between the third and second floors, I heard a SCREECH, and the elevator came to a dead STOP. The lights went out, and I was plunged into DARKNESS.

I waited for a moment, then squeaked at the top of my lungs: “Help! The elevator is stuck!”

There was no response. A chill ran down my tail as a terrifying thought struck me: “I’m stuck in an elevator on a Saturday afternoon and no one has a clue I’m here!”

Cold sweat dripped from my whiskers. My head was spinning like a mousey-go-round at an amusement park. My heart was racing faster than a gerbil on a treadmill. I banged my paws on the steel doors, screaming, “HELP, I’m traaaapppppped!”

Despite the darkness, I saw something move. “AAAAAAAAARRRRRRRGHH!” I screeched.

Then I looked closer: It was only my own reflection in the elevator’s mirror!

A REAL, TRUE EMERGENCY!

I tried to get a grip. I began to think things through.

“OK, it’s Saturday afternoon. The library will reopen on Monday morning. So I’ll just wait calmly until then.”

But the thought of being stuck in an elevator for a day and a half gave me a bad case of scaredy-mouse syndrome. I began to sob, “Heeeelp! Heeeelp!”

There was no response.

I sighed, then sat down. I figured I might as well make myself comfortable. I needed to cheer up a bit, so I rummaged through my shopping bags and found a piece of cheese. I began munching on it slowly, then drank a sip of orange juice. It was lucky I'd just done my shopping: A piece of cheese usually calms me down right away. After all, what mouse doesn't love cheese?

For a moment, I felt better. How bad could it be? I had food to eat and a juicy book to entertain me. I'd planned on spending the whole weekend reading anyway.

Too bad it was so DARK in here!

In fact, it was pitch-black. All that darkness reminded me I hate small spaces. I get really claustrophobic!

I took a deep breath. There was nothing to do but wait. So I removed my jacket, folded it into a pillow, curled up my tail, and tried to sleep. A nap was a surefire way to pass the time.

But no matter how much I tried, I just couldn't seem to relax. Maybe it was the darkness. Maybe it was the stuffiness. Maybe it was my own 'fraidy-ness.

Whatever it was, I tossed and turned for hours.

When I finally fell asleep, I had terrible dreams. I dreamed I'd been buried alive in a mummy tomb. It was my most BONE-CHILLING nightmare ever!

Sunday morning finally rolled around. I couldn't see the SUN, of course, but I realized it was morning when I checked the fluorescent light on my watch.

By this time, I was starting to feel like the cheese had slipped off my cracker. I tried to comfort myself by humming softly. I wrapped my tail around myself and rocked back and forth, squeaking to myself.

After a few hours of that, I heard a ring.

Riiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiing!!!

I jumped up. What was that? Something was vibrating inside my pocket!

My cell phone! Why hadn't I remembered it sooner?

HYENA HERE, BRUCE HYENA!

A loud, HEARTY squeak roared back at me,
“Hello, Hyena here. Bruce Hyena!”

“B-B-Bruce,” I stammered. “I’m so glad you called. I’m trapped in an elevator, in the dark. . . . I’m scared and —”

He cut me short in his usual abrupt way.
“Pipe down, Cheesehead! Where are you?”

“Umm, in an elevator in the New Mouse
City Public Library. . . .”

Bruce heaved a SIGH.

“I’ll be right there, Cheese Puff!”

I smiled. Bruce was one of my dearest friends. He was a really brawny mouse — just the rodent you’d want by your side in an EMERGENCY.

I didn't know
how he'd do it.

But one thing was certain:
Bruce would get me

OUT

of here right away!
If there's one thing
I knew about him . . .

THE THOUSAND FACES OF BRUCE HYENA

He's a parachutist who throws himself into every adventure!

He always protects nature.

He can sail a sailboat.

Ain't no mountain high enough for him!

He has a great sense of direction, so he never gets lost.

He loves to sing and tell stories around the campfire.

He has one secret:
He loves romantic novels and poetry.

A few minutes later, I heard some paws run up the stairs. Then some paws pounded furiously on the elevator doors. Finally, somebody exclaimed, “Don’t worry! Everything is under control!”

I whispered, “Bruce, is that you?”

No one answered. The elevator doors creaked open. A sliver of light shone through. I blinked a few times. It had been a long time since I’d seen daylight.

LIGHT! AIR! FREEDOM!

Then an iron paw pulled me through the gap in the doors. Somebody shouted in my ear, “Everything OK, CHAMP?”

I barely managed to SQUEAK. Then I passed out.

I THOUGHT I'D LEAVE MY FUR THERE!

I spent the rest of the day at home, resting. A nice HOT bath, some tasty cheese, and a good night's sleep quickly restored me.

The next day, I told everybody in the office about my unlucky adventure. Oh, excuse me, I almost forgot to tell you — I run The Rodent's Gazette, the biggest newspaper in New Mouse City.

"I was so scared!" I sighed. "Alone all night in the elevator, in the dark. . . . I thought I'd leave my FUR there forever!"

My sister THEA snorted. "No chance of leaving anything there, except maybe your common sense! You just spent a night in an elevator, that's all!"

"If it were me, I would have just taken a nice ratnap," my cousin Trap snickered. "If life gives you cheese, make a triple-decker sandwich! Know what I mean?"

Bruce was quiet. He put a paw on me and said seriously, "Tell me, Cheesehead, why didn't you call me right away?"

"Actually . . . hmm . . . I didn't think of it," I admitted. "I don't know why."

Bruce nodded. Then he shouted in my ear: "I'll tell you why, Cheese Puff! Because you're a BUNDLE of nerves! Because you LOST

YOUR COOL! Because you panicked!”

He pinched my ear. “OUUUCCHHH!” I shrieked.

Bruce ignored me. “Remember these golden rules:

RULE NO. 1: ALWAYS KEEP CALM!

RULE NO. 2: BE QUICK ON YOUR PAWS!

RULE NO. 3: LEARN TO ADAPT!

RULE NO. 4: BE AWARE OF YOUR SURROUNDINGS!

“Got it, CHAMP?”

He scribbled something in a small orange notebook, then slammed it shut. He nodded, gave my sister a high five (why?), WINKED at my cousin (why?), and signaled Benjamin not to worry (why, why, why?).

Bruce turned to look me in the snout. “I’ve got just the cure for what ails you,” he declared. “Just you wait!”

Bruce grabbed my tail and dragged me up the stairs to the roof. An orange helicopter was waiting for us.

Naturally, I refused to get in. I'd been on enough of Bruce's ADVENTURES to know better than to go anywhere with him. I struggled valiantly, but in the end, an intellectual mouse like me couldn't compete with Bruce's MASSIVE muscles. He picked me up and THREW me in.

A PLACE WITH LOTS AND LOTS OF SAND

Bruce gave me a pair of MIRRORED sunglasses, just like his. “Put these on! Under the seat you’ll find a backpack stuffed with everything we need for where we’re going.”

Now I was really worried. Why was he being so mysterious? “Soooo, where are we going?”

Bruce chuckled. “Let’s play a GAME, CHAMP. You like games, don’t you?”

I smiled nervously. I do like games, but mostly of the board variety.

“See if you can guess,” Bruce continued. “It’s a place with lots and lots of sand.”

“The beach?” I breathed hopefully.

He snorted. “A beach? YOU WISH, Cheesehead!”

I tried again. “The HAMSTER ISLANDS?”

“Where we’re going is much, much, much BIGGER than an island, CHAMP!” he declared. “In fact, it’s almost four million square miles! It’s very, very, very hot there. It gets up to one hundred degrees Fahrenheit in the shade! And it’s very, very, very DRY. It never rains!”

I was INCREDULOUS. “A place like that doesn’t exist. . . .”

He snickered. “You should see how the sun shines. It’s so hot, you could get a tan in the middle of the night!”

I was beginning to have a bad feeling about this. But Bruce was laughing very hard.

Once he caught his breath, he said, “There are lots and lots and lots of came[s]!

I was flabbergasted. “Wh-what?? What do camels have to do with anything?”

Bruce was rolling with laughter in the helicopter, making it BOUNCE up and down. I clutched my stomach. You see, I have a bad history of MOTION SICKNESS.

we were SWINGING UP AND DOWN . . . UP AND DOWN . . . UP AND DOWN . . .

“Look down,” Bruce sputtered between laughs. “There are the came[s]!”

Below us was a blanket of sand.

It was veryveryvery big . . .

veryveryvery hot . . .

and veryveryvery dry . . .

with lots and lots and lots of came[s]!

Bruce had finally gotten control of himself. “I bet you’re wondering where the beach is, right?” He burst out laughing again.

But that was no beach. It was the Sahara Desert!

“If you don’t lather yourself up with sunblock from the tip of your tail to the tip of your whiskers, you’ll be in agony!” he bellowed. “Out here, you need a sunblock that’s SPF 1000!”

“But SPF 1000 sunblock doesn’t exist!” I stammered.

“Exaaaaaaaactly! So stay in the SHADE as much as you can, otherwise you’ll be a ROASTED RODENT! Now, get ready. Your tests are about to begin!”

Tests? What tests? I sighed. Well, at least I was good at tests. . . .

THE DESERT

What is a desert?

A desert is an area that is almost completely uninhabited, where it hardly ever rains, and where the terrain is arid and infertile.

Some deserts are hot deserts. These deserts are made up of mostly rock or sand. Strong winds create big sand dunes.

There are also cold deserts, like those in Greenland, the Arctic, and the Antarctic. Cold deserts are huge expanses of snow and ice, where the chill is intense and truly brutal!

The Sahara

The Sahara is the largest non-polar desert in the world. It's in northern Africa, and it occupies an area of about 3,475,000 square miles.

It is a huge stretch of sand marked by traces of ancient rivers. When it rains (which happens rarely!), they fill up with water. In some areas, water springs from below the ground, forming a rich area of vegetation called an oasis.

The Sahara is home to desert tribes like the Tuareg. These nomadic people devote themselves mostly to agriculture and shepherding. They are easily recognizable because, to protect themselves from the sun, they wear a blue headpiece and long, colorful clothes with wide sleeves.

THE TESTS!!!

“OK, it’s time for your tests,” Bruce announced. “In a little while, I’ll make a real mouse out of you!”

I could feel my whiskers trembling with terror. “I don’t need to become a real mouse. I’m happy just the way I am!” I declared.

Bruce shook his snout. “That’s where you’re wrong. It’s not safe for you to remain the way you are. Look at what happened in the elevator! You’re too wimpy! You need to hone your instincts and get in touch with the real mouse inside you, Champ! Don’t worry about it, though. I’ll take care of everything! You can thank me later. Now . . . it’s time for test number one!”

REAL MOUSE TEST NO. 1

Before I realized what was happening, Bruce reached over toward my collar.

“Uh-oh, what do we have here? Lookie here, Cheesehead. It’s a SCORPION!”

I let out an ear-piercing scream. “A scorpioooooooooooooon? Heeeeeeeeeeeeeeeelp!”

Bruce just LAUGHED. He swung the SCORPION back and forth in front of my snout. “Don’t worry, CHAMP! It’s made of rubber!” Then he said more seriously: “Rule No. 1: Always keep calm! If it had been real, you’d be catmeat by now!”

After my heart stopped pounding, I started chasing him. “BRUUUCEE! When I catch you, you’ll see how calm I can be!”

REAL MOUSE TEST NO. 2

As he scampered away from me, Bruce headed up a huge dune with SAND as fine as powder. Once he reached the top, he started taunting me.

“Come on, Cheese Puff, show me what you’ve got! I want to see you flex those muscles! Lift those paws, HOP, HOP!”

I tried to lift my paws, but as I plodded up the dune, each paw sank into the sand.

When I got to the top, Bruce tripped me.

“I’m doing this for you, Cheesehead!” he shouted. “One day you’ll thank me.”

As I rolled down the dune, he shouted, “That’s no good at all! You’ve failed the test. You forgot Rule No. 2: Be quick on your paws!”

REAL MOUSE TEST NO. 3

There was SAND in my clothes and fur! While I was trying to shake it off, Bruce scurried down the hill and pawed me some CHEESE. “Now, eat this! I’m doing it for your own good. One day you’ll thank me.”

One day? I was ready to thank him right now — I was starving! I opened my mouth to take a big bite when I noticed the cheese was covered with WORMS! “EEWWWWWWW!” I shrieked. I threw it away in disgust.

Bruce shook his snout. “No good at all! Cheesehead, you botched the test. You forgot Rule No. 3: Learn to adapt! If wormy cheese is all you have to eat, then eat wormy cheese!”

REAL MOUSE TEST NO. 4

The next morning, I woke at dawn.

I stretched, scratched my whiskers, then sat bolt upright: I was ALONE in the tent except for this note!

- TEST NO. 4: MEET ME AT THE OASIS!
- WALK EAST FOR TWO HOURS, THEN GO WEST. ONE DAY YOU'LL THANK ME!

Thank Bruce? Thanking him was the FURTHEST thing from my mind! How could I make it on my own in the desert? And where was the oasis? I had no idea!

However, I soon realized I had no choice but to do as Bruce said. I couldn't stay in the tent alone. I had only the clothes on my back and a small amount of FOOD and WATER in my backpack. So I started out.

It turned out to be one of the most horrible days of my life. I tried to figure out where I was, but there were no points of reference! There was nothing in the desert. Only SAND... SAND... SAND... AND MORE SAND.

As the sun began to set, I noticed something familiar on the ground. I realized it was my pawkerchief. That meant I had already been there! I was going in circles!

I started to sob. "I'm loooooost! I'm scared!"

Just then, Bruce came from behind a dune and yelled, "No good at all, Cheesehead! You FLUNKED this test, too. Remember Rule No. 4: Be aware of your surroundings!"

REAL MOUSE TEST NO. 5

Bruce led me to a tree at the Oasis. “You’re probably wondering why I brought you here, aren’t you?” Bruce asked kindly.

“Er, yes. Why did you bring me here?”

“Geronimo, I’m going to give you a very VALUABLE piece of advice,” Bruce said seriously. “Be quiet and DON’T MOVE!”

I was about to ask why, when I heard a faint buzzing that grew louder and LOUDER!

A second later, I was covered with bees! That was weird! Yet here they were, All OVER THE PLACE! They were crawling on my ears, whiskers, and nose! There were bees from my glasses down to my tail.

Bees! bees!! Bees!
bees! Bees! bees!
bees! Bees! bees!!
Bees!

What a NIGHTMARE!

Bruce clicked his stopwatch. "You're so LUCKY! This is a unique opportunity to measure how long you can keep cool. I'm going to count the seconds before you start SCREAMING. Ready, Cheesehead? One . . . Two . . . Three . . . CONGRATULATIONS, so far . . . Nine . . . Ten . . . Why haven't you screamed? Fifteen . . . Sixteen . . . Did I mention if you scream, you'll get STUNG?"

Nine ... Ten ...

Ouchie ouch!

Helllpppp!

DEBUT HALL

It may seem strange, but in some areas of the desert, where water is plentiful and plants thrive (such as oases), bees can live and produce honey.

DISAPPOINTED, Bruce muttered, “Hmm, you’re not screaming!”

I didn’t scream because I was too afraid to! I had no INTENTION of getting stung.

But Bruce had more tricks up his fur. “Fine!” he shouted. “I guess I’ll have to make the test harder!”

He snickered, then shook the tree trunk until the bees’ nest fell right on my head!

Now those bees were really mad! They SWARMED around me so thickly, I couldn’t see my own snout. I ran away, and they began to chase me!

B z z z z z z z z z z z z !

I ran to the pond in the middle of the oasis and dove in snout-first.

“GOOD FOR YOU!” Bruce shouted. “Record time: 325 feet in nine seconds!”

TOO DARN HOT!

I dragged myself to the tent, threw myself on the cot, and promptly fell asleep. The night (which was frigid, like all nights in the desert!) was very short. It felt like I was asleep for only five minutes when a SCREECH jolted me awake.

“Get up, Chorus Pull! Get to!”

“W-w-what? Where am I?” I stuttered.

A minute later, it all came FLOODING back. I knew exactly where I was: in the desert, with Bruce. I peeked out of the tent just as the SUN was rising in a cloudless sky.

“How beautiful!” I breathed.

Unfortunately, that peaceful moment was just that — a moment. Seconds after the sun peeked above the horizon, Bruce leaned over and shouted in my ear, “Show’s over, Cheese Puff! It’s time to WARM UP your puny little muscles with some exercise!”

Oh, we warmed up, all right! Fifteen minutes later, I was HOTTER than an overcooked grilled cheese sandwich!

But that wasn’t enough for Bruce. He kept giving me more and more challenging exercises while the temperature kept rising.

After one hour, it was HOT!

After two hours, it was SWELTERING!

After three hours, it was SCORCHING!

After that, I don't remember a thing. MY brain was fried!

The whole day was like that. Bruce gave me one exercise routine after another, even when the desert sun was HIGH IN THE SKY and beating down mercilessly. He had me do floor exercises, running, bending, jumping, weight lifting, and the worst of the bunch: He made me STARVE all day long!

As I sweated away, he squeaked at me ruthlessly. "Come on, CHAMP! Are you a REAL MOUSE or a cheese puff?"

I did my best not to look like a cheese puff, but it was hard! The sun was ROASTING!

At the end of the day, I was completely cooked. Bruce took one look at my BURNED snout and BURST OUT laughing. "Good for you, CHAMP! You're making progress.

You don't look like a cheese puff anymore — you look more like a BAKED CHEESE PUFF!”

He dragged me off to the tent. I was so relieved. I couldn't wait to curl into a furball and fall asleep.

“Don't worry, Cheesehead. I have a nice surprise lined up for you for tomorrow,” Bruce told me as he tucked me in.

“Really?” I mumbled wearily. And with that small RAY of hope, I fell asleep.

TOO DARN COLD!

At dawn the next day, Bruce woke me up with his usual hearty squeak:

“On your paws, Cheesehead. Wake up and get going! I have a surprise for you. We’re leaving!”

I was on my paws in an instant. I couldn’t wait to get out of there! I folded my sleeping bag, stuffed it into my backpack, and zipped it up in a jiffy. Things were looking up! My woes were finally coming to an end.

Oh, how wrong I was!

I heard the roar of an engine outside our tent. Bruce was waiting for me in the orange HELICOPTER.

As soon as I’d scrambled on board, Bruce leaned over and shouted, “Let’s play a game.

See if you can guess where I'm taking you. You're HOT, right?"

"You can say that again! This place is hotter than Roasted Rat Volcano on the Fourth of July!"

Bruce nodded. "So you'd like to go someplace nice and cool, right?"

"Oh, yes!" I said EAGERLY. "That sounds perfect!"

Bruce rubbed his snout thoughtfully. "Well, I happen to know a spot like that. How does that sound, CHAMP?"

Throwing caution to the wind, I answered, "Sure! The cooler the better!"

Bruce smiled from ear to ear. "OK, now let's see if you can guess where I'm thinking of. It's a little place that's far, far, far away. It's scarcely INHABITED, and very WINDY . . ."

I shrugged. "Someplace WINDY . . . um, I have no idea. Come on, Bruce, just tell me. WHERE are you taking me? Where are we GOING?"

Bruce howled with satisfaction. "You're going to love this place, Champ! It's the coolest spot on Earth! MOUNTAINS of snow, FROZEN rivers, temperatures one hundred degrees BELOW ZERO. That's right, we're going to the Noooooorth Pooooole!"

"The North Pole?" I screeched. "I'd rather stay here!"

Bruce put his paw on the gas. "Oh, no you don't, Champ! A REAL MOUSE doesn't change his mind every five minutes, depending on which way the wind is blowing. You already said you preferred the COLD. So cold it is!"

It was a gruesome trip. After the helicopter, we took a PLANE, then an ICE CHOPPER, then another HELICOPTER. . . .

\ Barrier skin cream insulates the skin from the cold. It also protects the skin from chapping caused by freezing temperatures.*

The entire time, Bruce rattled off to me INSTRUCTIONS on how to survive in temperatures a hundred degrees below zero.

“First of all, CHEESEHEAD, remember not to Sweat. If you do, your sweat will freeze on you!”

“That’s it!” I protested. “I’m going home. That way I won’t Sweat for sure. . . .”

“Oh, no you don’t!” Bruce scolded. “You’re in my capable paws now, Cheese Puff! What you need is self-control! Don’t worry. I’ll teach you everything you need to know to survive.”

He made me dress in polar gear — THREE LAYERS of everything, from my hat down to my socks! When I finally got off the helicopter, I had so many items of clothes on, I could hardly move. I looked like the Abominable Snowrat!

I looked around in despair. We were in a borderless desert of ice, also known as an ice pack.* It was bitterly cold — much colder than I could ever have imagined. I felt like I was trapped inside a subzero freezer!

“Did you put on some barrier skin cream, CHEESEHEAD?” Bruce asked. He had to shout to be heard over the frigid winds gusting around us.

“Cream? What cream?” I shouted back.

“The cream that protects against the cold and wind. You don’t want your whiskers to freeze, do you?”

“Actually, I . . .”

“That’s BAD, Cheddarface. They could crumble and fall right off!”

Oh no, not my whiskers! I got so stressed out, I could feel little beads of perspiration forming on my neck and back.

**An ice pack is a sheet of ice that covers the sea. Ice packs are common in the polar regions.*

Bruce has a sixth sense about these things. He gave me a look that would've scared a rabid tomcat. "You aren't Sweating, are you?" he demanded.

"Wh-why do you ask?" I stuttered nervously.

"Because you could FREEZE like a fish stick! By the way, did you put on your waterproof insulated tail cover?"

"My what?" I asked.

"That means no, right? That's very bad,

Cheese Puff Your tail could freeze! You don't want it to FALL OFF, do you?"

My whiskers began to tremble. Not from the cold, but from anxiety! You see, I'm very attached to my tail. I shouted, "It's too cold here! I want to go home!"

Bruce slapped my shoulder. "Come on, Cheesehead! The fun has just begun!"

"Fun? Fun?!" I screeched. "You call this fun?!?!"

I want to go home!

Come on, Cheese Puff!
The fun has just begun!

Bruce gave me a pat on the back. “Come on, CHAMP! We’re off to the North Pole! Think how much fun it’ll be! We’ll pull sleds carrying food and equipment for a good HUNDRED MILES, or until the GPS* tells us we’ve hit the North Pole. What could be BETTER? It’s going to be an AMAZING adventure!”

I didn’t bother answering. I started PULLING the sled in silence to conserve my energy. I thought: The sooner we get to the North Pole, the sooner we’ll leave this DREADFUL place!

It was a loooooong, grueling march. It seemed to go on FOREVER. All we saw all day long was ICE, ICE, and more ICE! I felt like I was becoming one with our surroundings, but not in a good way. I was frozen like a MOUSTLE! My whiskers were frozen, my tail was frozen, my fur was frozen, even my GLASSES were frozen!

At dusk on the seventh day, we had arrived! I collapsed in a frozen heap. I'd never been so happy to reach a destination.

"Good for you, CHAMP!" Bruce cheered. "When you don't disappoint me, you do me proud!"

Talk about faint words of praise!

A little while later, a motor roared above us. HURRAH! The orange HELICOPTER had come to get us.

TOO MUCH JUNGLE!

As soon as we climbed on board the chopper, I curled up and fell asleep. I slept through the whole trip. I barely noticed when we changed transportation: helicopter, ship, plane, train, another ship, another plane. All I knew was that we were heading home. What a fur-raising trip it had been! I couldn't wait to be back in my nice, cozy mouse hole in New Mouse City.

While trying to catch a few Z's, I heard Bruce chattering away. I tried tuning him out, but I caught something about hungry tigers, the JUNGLE, quicksand, and poisonous snakes. I guessed he was telling me a bedtime story. But I was so tired, I couldn't keep my eyes open.

THE JUNGLE

The jungle is a dense tangle of trees and vegetation at the heart of a tropical rain forest. Jungles are most common in the areas around the equator and the tropics. It rains frequently in the jungle, which helps the trees and bushes grow abundantly. Jungles are home to an unusually large percentage of animal species — some estimate that more than 50 percent of the world's species live in jungles.

It's always wise to wear light clothing in the jungle. It's also important to carry a survival kit with a few essential objects.

When I woke up, I was alone at the door to the plane. I heard Bruce yell in my ear, "OK, CHEESEHEAD, you were paying attention, right? If you want to stay alive, be sure to remember everything I told you. Now OUT YOU GO! You're going to have so much fun!"

HEEEEEELP!!!

POOOOAAH!

SLURP!

Bruce shoved me out of the plane and into . . . NOTHINGNESS! I fell for what seemed like an eternity. I started panicking, but then I remembered Bruce muttering something about a parachute. I felt around until I found a string, and I pulled it!

With a big rip, the parachute opened and slowed my descent.

As I WHIZZED through the wind, I saw treetops below me coming closer and closer. . . .

I was headed straight for an extremely DENSE forest. . . .

No, actually . . .

IT WAS A JUNGLE!

Oh why, oh why hadn't I listened to Bruce's babbling? I should've known he would never be telling me something as innocent as a bedtime story! How was I ever going to SURVIVE in the WILD JUNGLE?

I'd barely had time to reflect on the trouble I was in when my parachute got tangled in the branches of a HUMONGOUS tree.

I sat quietly for a moment and took stock of the situation: I was lost in the jungle, tangled in a parachute, on top of a gigantically TALL tree.

"HELP!" I screamed. "I don't want to hang here like a fly waiting for a spider!"

I was in trouble. Real trouble!

As if being stuck in a tree wasn't enough to scare the cheese out of me, the jungle was full of terrifying sounds. First I thought I heard a pair of jaws opening and closing. . . .

Maybe it was a hungry crocodile with razor-sharp teeth. . . .

SMACK...

SMACK...

Then I heard the THUNDEROUS roar of a tiger. . . .

ROOOOAR!

Was it a ravenous Malaysian tiger? I shivered. I'd heard they love to eat rodents!

I couldn't think anymore. A cloud of insects was swarming around me. . . .

Bzzzzzz! Bzzzzzz! Bzzzzzz!

Bzzzzzz! Bzzzzzz!

Were they rare poisonous insects that could paralyze me with a single bite?

I trembled from the tip of my tail to the tip of my whiskers.

I screamed with every ounce of breath in my body, "Heeeeeeeelp! Somebody help meeeeeeee!"

Nearby, I heard the rustling of leaves.

I sighed with relief. I knew it was Bruce. He'd come to save me!

But out of the leaves, a HAIRY face emerged! Then I saw two beady eyes and a protruding jaw.

I was a goner. It wasn't Bruce, it was an ORANGUTAN!

I was in deep, deep trouble!

The orangutan plucked me right out of the tree. She seemed happy to see me. She began rocking me gently, then a little harder. Eventually, she was rocking me so hard I felt seasick!

Then I understood! This was an ORANGUTAN MOTHER, and she'd mistaken me for one of her babies!

I cleared my throat NERVOUSLY. "Excuse me, ummm . . . MRS. ORANGUTAN . . . I think there's been a mistake. I HATE to disappoint you, but I'm not your son!"

She looked at me, a little puzzled. Then she began picking through the fur on my head. She was trying to find lice! Orangutans groom each other. They keep themselves clean by de-licing one another. It wasn't so bad, really, but — OUCH! — actually, it was a little painful!

"Please stop! I don't have any lice, I swear I don't! I'm not an ORANGUTAN, and I'm not your baby!"

But she continued examining my scalp as if I hadn't squeaked a word. Every now and then, she'd pluck some tufts of fur off my snout.

I finally had enough. "Please, I BEG you, put me down and leave me alone! I just want to go home!”

At that, she picked me up and sat me on her knee. I think she was trying to calm me down, because she forced me to eat a bunch of bananas.

I’ll have you know that I absolutely DESPISE bananas! This was worse than the desert. It was worse than the North Pole. Frankly, I didn’t know how it could get any worse than this.

Just when I thought I couldn’t take it anymore, who bursts out of the bushes?

BRUCE!

“Hey, CHAMP, you shouldn’t get too friendly with an orangutan! Don’t you know she could squish your pretty little snout?”

“Sq-sq-squish my snout?” I stammered. Then I FAINED.

TOO MUCH DARKNESS!

When I came to, I was in the helicopter again. Bruce was leaning over me. “Wake up, Cheese Pull! Come on, wake up! You never were in any real DANGER. I was always near you, ready to come to the RESCUE.”

He slapped me hard on the back and continued, “You know, you’re really a cheesehead, Cheesehead! Just give me a few more days and I’ll make a real mouse out of you! Don’t worry your pretty little snout about anything, OK? Leave everything to me.”

“O-O-OK, but I’m not sure if I TRUST you. . . . Wh-wh-where are you taking me?”

“Where your worst FEARS will become reality: a cave!”

A CAVE?! Hmm, it couldn’t be worse

CAVE EXPLORATION EQUIPMENT

CAVES

Caves are underground cavities that are created naturally by the corrosion and erosion of soil.

Although caves were used by ancient people for shelter, they are naturally inhospitable.

They are usually cold, very damp, and very, very dark!

Speleology is the science that studies caves, their origins, and their characteristics. To explore a cave, you must bring the proper equipment.

than the JUNGLE ... could it?

An hour or two later, we were inside a dark cave, inching our way along a LOOOOOONG, muddy underground passage.

I couldn't see a thing! Imagine the darkest night you've ever seen, then multiply that by a thousand. IT WAS COMPLETELY, 100 PERCENT PITCH-BLACK! My flashlight LIT only a little space ahead of me.

I was trying VERY HARD to remain calm. I reminded myself: I'm not alone. Bruce is here.

He knows how to get out of TROUBLE

As we trudged through the mud,
Bruce warned me, "Better keep an eye out,
CHAMP. It's very easy to get lost in a cave. You've got to stay NEAR ME at all times. If you take the wrong tunnel, you could get lost.
And if you do, that's the end of you. If we're lucky, we'll find your BONES hundreds and hundreds of years from now. . . ."

“I-I-I don’t plan to lose you!” I assured him.

“Be very careful of your flashlight. Don’t drop it, or you’ll be a DEAD MOUSE!”

“I-I-I don’t have the slightest intention of dropping my flashlight,” I assured him.

“Very good, Cheesehead. By the way, you remembered to bring the package with the extra flashlight and batteries, right?”

“Wha-a-a-t? What PACKAGE? What extra flashlight? What extra BATTERIES?” I was so worried, I stood up and smacked my snout against the stalactite hanging above me. The LIGHT on my helmet went out.

Suddenly, it was quiet. Too quiet.

Bruce had disappeared!

I screamed, “BRUCE, WHERE ARE YOU?”

There was no answer. Only DEAD SILENCE.

I was lost in the caves!

I WAS ALONE

ALONE!

I WAS SCARED

SO VERY, VERY,

VERY SCARED!

Then I did the most idiotic thing I could have done: I began to wander through the tunnels.

I WANDERED...AND WANDERED...
AND WANDERED...AND WANDERED...

“Luckily, my flashlight is working,” I reminded myself.

But just then, my flashlight flickered out. With horror, I remembered I didn’t have any extra BATTERIES!

I was plunged into complete DARKNESS.

Now I knew how the three BLIND Mice must’ve felt. And it was dreadful!

I rolled up in a corner and began sobbing. After a few minutes, I tried to pull myself together. I began to sing a little song. It was perfect for my current situation.

After what seemed like forever, Bruce FOUND me. He had heard me singing!

I'M A CALM MOUSE

Well now I try to be a calm mouse –
I like to stay in my own little house.
I don't enjoy taking any risks –
I definitely don't like being sick!

I'm happiest in my own cozy mouse hole,
Glued to the fridge, eating cheese from a bowl.
I'm not a supermouse – in fact, I'm a wimp.
I'm afraid of everything, even sea shrimp!

If you mention cats, I'll start to quip –
And I'll whisper away about my little trip.
Not willing to wait together, I'll try to be better –
Just don't leave me down in a dark, spooky cellar!

“Good for you, Cheesehead!” he cried. “You were smart to sing! Otherwise, I never would have found you. Hundreds of years from now, if we were lucky, we’d have discovered your BONES. . . .”

I stopped listening. I just followed without a squeak as he guided me to the cave’s exit and back to our TENT.

I was BEYOND tired. I was exhausted!

I slipped into the sleeping bag up to my ears, and sank into a

TOO MUCH STRESS!

Unfortunately, just a few minutes later, Bruce BURST into the tent and woke me up.

“Go away, Bruce!” I said, covering my snout with my paws. “I need to sleep!”

“Not now, CHAMP! I’ve got lots to tell you.” And with that, he started CHATTERING about anything and everything he could think of. He was so annoying! I realized he was deliberately trying to irritate me.

This time, I was about to lose my patience.

WAS THIS ANOTHER TEST?
HE WAS PUTTING ME UNDER TREMENDOUS STRESS!

He was starting to drive me crazy. First he said I was a 'fraidy mouse (which we all know is true). But then he began making fun of The Rodent's Gazette, saying he found The Daily Rat much more enjoyable. Then he said I was lucky to have such a great family (which is true), but that they deserved much better than a STINKY cheeserat like me.

He went on like this for HOURS and HOURS. I tried to stay calm, but finally I EXPLODED. I couldn't take it anymore. I Blew up Like a cheese casserole that's been left in the microwave too long.

Bruce shook his snout. "You've learned a lot, Cheese Puff. However, you're still a little WEAK when it comes to your nerves, eh? Not to worry, though, we'll fix this little problem, too. Let me explain how and why one should keep calm in every situation."

I was too weak to ARGUE (though believe me, I wanted to!). My explosion had used up my last ounce of energy.

HOW AND WHY TO KEEP CALM IN EVERY SITUATION

Did someone get you angry?

Did you lose your patience?

Did you blow up?

Follow Bruce's advice on how to keep calm.

KEEP YOUR HEAD ABOVE WATER AND INHALE!

1. Breathe deeply.
2. Count to ten before saying or doing anything.
3. Figure out what made you angry.
4. Ask yourself if the anger you feel is appropriate to the situation.
5. Remember: It's not worth getting mad over every little thing that doesn't go your way.
6. Once you understand the problem, find a solution!

Remember
Breathe
Deeply

THE SURVIVAL COURSE IS . . .

At dawn the following day, an ear-splitting scream woke me up.

“Cheeseeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeee!”

I jumped up and ran outside, ready to face any situation.

What was waiting for me this time?

What DANGER lurked ahead?

What EMERGENCY?

What ADVENTURE?

Bruce was standing outside the tent with his paws folded. He STARED at me for a long moment. At last he SHOUTED, “Now, listen to me!

“The survival course is over!”

I was flabbergasted.

Listen to me!

THE SURVIVAL COURSE IS OVER!

“Wh-what did you say? The course is OVER?”

“Yes!” Bruce answered.

“No more cold?”

“No.”

“No more HEAT?”

“No.”

“No more hard work?”

“No.”

“No more hunger, thirst, and DARKNESS?”

“No, no, and no!”

Bruce hung an enormous GOLD MEDAL around my neck. Then, for the first time, he smiled at me and uttered two precious words: “WELL DONE!”

I answered with one grateful, sincere word: “THANKS!”

THE REAL SURVIVAL TEST IS HERE AND NOW!

Bruce plucked a tuft of fur off my ear and pawed me a sheet of paper.

“Make good use of it, Cheese Puff! You’ll need it!” Bruce strode off toward a nearby hotel. We were going to spend the night there before returning to Mouse Island.

I didn’t have the energy to read what he had handed me. I dragged myself to the hotel and crawled to my room.

I headed to the bathroom, slipped into a hot BATH, and tried to relax my aching muscles.

I began to read the sheet of paper Bruce gave me. It was a diploma! My whiskers quivered with emotion. I almost burst into

DON'T FORGET:

1. The desert taught you that no matter how hard your daily problems are, the important thing is to face them with the right attitude.
2. Our polar trek taught you to never give up. Be optimistic and have faith in yourself.
3. Life is an opportunity for growth. It is also an opportunity to make new friends, just like you did in the jungle, ha-ha-ha!
4. Finally, remember that this is your life — the only one you'll ever have. It's the spice you give it that makes it exciting. Singing in the cave is just the beginning!

In other words, the real survival test is here and now, every day!

tears. I had done it!

I had passed the test, and I was so glad it was over!

While I was reflecting on the last few days, I decided I was a little hungry. I finished my BATH and ordered a snack from room service: cheesy spaghetti. I gobbled down the food, savoring each DELICIOUSLY cheesy bite. Then I scampered into bed, got comfortable, and mumbled, "I'm just gonna close my eyes for a quick ratnap ... a little rest ...

zzzzzz . . . zzzzzzzzzzzzz . . . zzzzzz . . .

I woke up TWENTY-FOUR hours later.
Holey cheese! That was some NAP!

AN AWESOME EXPERIENCE

We headed for home that same day. We arrived in New Mouse City the following morning. I decided to go straight to The Rodent's Gazette. I couldn't wait to see my family and all my friends!

I said hello to everybody, went into my office, sat at my desk, opened my appointment book, and turned on my computer.

There I was . . . back to my DAILY ROUTINE!
It felt good.

Then I SIGHED.

I had experienced so many adventures!

I had worked hard, felt fear, and several times I'd thought I'd never make it out alive.

But now, thinking it over . . .

Well...

so...

maybe...

perhaps...

I had to admit that it was an awesome experience!

But there was no time for reminiscing. The door to my office slammed open, and my sister Thea burst in.

At first I thought she had come to welcome me home, but I could tell she had something on her mind. “Geronimo, have you heard the news?” she asked, a look of worry on her snout.

Bewildered, I shook my head. “What news?”

She turned on the TV: There was a newsflash on. “Here is the very latest news! A major storm has just hit the northern part of Mouse Island, near Blue Dolphin Bay. We do not yet know the extent of the DAMAGE. We’ll keep you posted with a minute-by-minute report!”

I sprang to my paws. The situation was very serious! Somebody had to do something right away!

The phone rang. It was the Honorable Ratmouse, New Mouse City's mayor.

“Geronimo, my friend, I need your help. We have to do something right away! Emergency workers are RUSHING up north, but we need all the help we can get!”

“I know, Mr. Mayor,” I said.

“I'll send out a NEWSBLAST from The Rodent's Gazette website to ask for volunteers. But I really don't know how else

I can help you. I'm a NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER. I don't know how to organize EMERGENCY relief."

"I understand," the mayor said SADLY. "It doesn't matter. I was hoping that you . . . well, let me know if you think of something."

I felt terrible. I was sorry to disappoint the mayor. I hung up the phone and put my head on my desk. How could I help? There were too many things that needed to be done. The job was TOO BIG for a single mouse!

Even Thea was at a LOSS. And my sister is one of the world's Biggest know-it-alls!

NEVER GIVE UP

If there was one thing I learned through my experience with Bruce, it was to never give up! I thought, *Maybe one rodent can't do much on his own, but many friends together can do a lot!

I jumped up and shouted, "We can do it!"

I called all my coworkers into an extra-urgent meeting. In a few minutes everyone was there, out of breath and worried. Once everyone was assembled in the meeting room, I jumped on a chair and said, "Friends, I have called you here because something really serious has happened."

Then I waited silently. Everyone's eyes were FIXED on me. I looked at each mouse, ONE BY ONE, and went on.

What did you say you want to do?

Impossible!

We have to act now!

...a terrible storm!

What?!

Really?

“Today the mayor asked for our help. A huge storm has hit the northern part of Mouse Island.”

Everyone murmured, “A what?”

“It’s not possible!”

“There’s never been a big storm on that part of the island!”

“Unfortunately, it’s true!” I continued. “We need to act now! We need a lot of volunteers. Who can help?”

Everyone answered with one voice.

“Meeeeeee!”

I was moved. “Thank you, everyone. I was sure I could count on you.”

Trying to remain calm and steady, I began assigning tasks to everyone.

THE MORE DESPERATE THE SITUATION, THE GREATER THE NEED TO KEEP CALM!

Watching me work, Thea said, “Geronimo, are you sure you’re feeling OK? You don’t look like yourself. You almost look like . . .

A SUPERMOUSE!”

I smiled at her. “Don’t get your tail in a twist, Thea. I’m still me! If I look different, it’s all because of Bruce and his advice.”

I called all the contacts in my address book: Every one of them was willing to HELP OUT!

I'M NOT A SUPERMOUSE!

I decided to rush out a special edition of the paper. We'd report the latest on the STORM, and urge all the rodents on Mouse Island to do their part during the EMERGENCY by donating money, food, clothing, blankets, medicine, and transportation. We'd make it clear we welcomed advice as well as donations of time and MATERIALS.

When I called the mayor to tell him what I intended to do, he was very moved.

"Geronimo, you never fail to amaze me. What happened to you? You've changed. You almost seem like A SUPERMOUSE!"

I smiled to myself, thinking about what

Bruce had taught me,
and answered, "No,
Mr. Mayor, I'm not a supermouse. I'm still me: Geronimo

Stilton! But recently I've learned a few lessons on facing ADVERSITY."

I called my family and friends and asked them to come to the office. Each of my co-workers did the same. In a short time, there were more than fifty of us.

At first, THERE WAS TOTAL CHAOS! So I divided everyone into groups according to ability, then picked someone to head each group.

The special edition of *The Rodent's
Gazette* was printed in record time! Thanks to volunteers, it was quickly distributed throughout the city.

My grandfather, William Shortpaws, looked

I'll do the cooking!

me in the eyes and said, “Good for you, grandson! I’m almost beginning to think I was right to TRUST you with the newspaper. . . . You’ve become a real mouse!”

A few hours later, a small CROWD had gathered outside The Rodent’s Gazette. I opened the window and saw rodents of all ages in all sorts of bizarre vehicles: a tractor trailer, a skateboard, a little red wagon. Everyone had brought something: blankets, food, medicine. It was an amazing display of friendship and solidarity.

We loaded the provisions and supplies onto the tractor trailer, and our group of fearless rodents was ready to take off for the northern coast of Mouse Island.

Grandfather William announced: “I’LL GIVE THE ORDERS!”

Thea, Trap, and I stared at one another in dismay. Then we all started SQUEAKING at once.

“No, thank you, Grandfather, please, we don’t want to bother you!” I said.

“Grandfather, why don’t you stay here and rest instead?” Thea said. “We need someone to supervise operations at headquarters.”

But Grandfather IGNORED us. He scampered onto the bus that was leading the supply vehicles. Thea, Trap, Benjamin, Bruce, and I quickly scrambled in after him. Grandfather immediately began BARKING out commands. “OK, this is going to be a long trip, so let’s lay down some RULES here! The following are STRICTLY PROHIBITED on board this bus:

- Squeaking loudly.
- Singing rock music.
- Sticking Cheesy Chews under your seat.

- Picking your snout.
- Picking your neighbor's snout.

“Finally, I hope everyone brought a good BOOK! Let’s start reading, and we’ll each give an oral report at the end of the ride.” With that, he pulled out a book and started reading.

Thea and I LOOKED at each other and shrugged.

“Did you bring a book?” she asked.

“No, I forgot —” I began.

But Grandfather cut me off. “Geronimo! What did I tell you about squeaking loudly!” He shook his snout sadly. “And just when I was thinking you were turning into a REAL MOUSE!”

It was a very loooooong trip.

UP TO MY WHISKERS IN MUD!

When we reached the northernmost part of Mouse Island, we saw there was a lot of work to do. The MUDDY WATERS of the river had RISEN almost to the top of the banks. Towns were in danger of being flooded!

Something had to be done IMMEDIATELY!
But what? I didn't know where to start!

Bruce crossed his paws and gazed at me seriously. “Assess, decide, and act!”

I thought for a SECOND and knew what to do. “Listen up, everyone!” I called. All the rodents huddled around. “We need to reinforce the riverbanks. Let’s concentrate our resources on stopping the river from SPILLING OVER. Together, we can do it!”

There was a roar of approval. “Yeeees! We can do it!”

To keep the river in check, rodents filled sacks with sand. Others used bulldozers to pile up masses of ROCKS, bundles of WOOD, and tree trunks by the side of the river.

Then we made a rodent chain to pass the SAND and ROCKS from paw to paw. We began to build a BARRIER along the river.

Soon we were up to our whiskers in mud. Though the rain had stopped, our clothes were dripping wet, and our paws were aching. But we were filled with DETERMINATION.

As we worked, I decided to sing my favorite song, "I'm a Calm Mouse!" Soon, a few other rodents around me joined in.

In no time, we were all singing. Together, we were truly extraordinary mice!

I caught Thea's eye. She winked at me and cried, "Friends together! Mice forever!"

RODENTS WITH BIG HEARTS!

As we were singing, a ray of sun peeked out of the clouds, and a breathtaking RAINBOW stretched across the sky.

We returned to our work with newfound energy. Soon we found that WE HAD DONE IT! We had stopped the waters of the river from rushing over the banks: The towns were SAVED!

There was a lot more to do, but the worst was over. It would take an entire book to tell you what all those rodents with big hearts did: They cleaned MUD from houses, they comforted children and the elderly, they made HOT meals and cold sandwiches, they spoke gently and compassionately to mice who'd lost their homes. They were AMAZING!

I'll tell you one last thing.

I decided to record the song we all sang together, the song that gave us such STRENGTH and COURAGE. It was an enormous success!

That's the truth, or my name isn't Geronimo Stilton!

Who is Geronimo Stilton?

That's me! I run a newspaper, but my true passion is writing adventure stories. Here in New Mouse City, the capital of Mouse Island, my books are all bestsellers! My stories are funny, fa-mouse-ly funny. They are whisker-licking-good tales, and that's a promise!

I'M NOT A SUPERMOUSE!

Yes, it's true—I'm a total 'fraidy mouse and the biggest worryrat. In fact, I'm the complete opposite of my super-sporty and very brave friend Bruce Hyena. That's why I couldn't believe it when he dragged me off on a series of outrageous adventures to toughen me up. I had to keep reminding him that I'm not a supermouse! Or am I?
